PATHWAY TO SOLUTION

Dear Friends and Supporters of ARDN,

It is with great pleasure that we announce the first edition of ARDN'S newsletter, highlighting the activities accomplished this year up to the month of May 2019 and previewing upcoming events in July, August and September. There is also a special section with links to related activities at the United Nations.

Under the auspices of the United Nations Deputy-Secretary-General, the African Renaissance and Diaspora Network has developed and is implementing a special project for the United Nations whose main objective is to popularize the Sustainable Development goals (SDGs) in Africa and the Diaspora.

To achieve this goal, we mobilize and leverage the passion of government, educators, artists,

We sincerely hope this newsletter will serve to introduce the breadth and global premise of our programs. I look forward to getting your feedback.

Yours in Partnership,
Dr Djibril DIALLO,
President and CEO of ARDN

intellectuals, journalists, the private sector, civil society, youth and other stakeholders.

Every person and every organization is a partner in this world, whether they know it or accept it. All of us depend on our common home, therefore we have a responsibility to safeguard it and uplift all its peoples.

The United Nation's Sustainability Development Goals (SDGs) provide a holistic framework to achieve the world we want – a world defined by the values enshrined in the UN Charter: peace, justice, freedom, respect, social progress, equal rights and human dignity, human rights, tolerance and solidarity. Together, as partners for the SDGs, we can create a better world.

This year, ARDN is focusing on several activities around the Sustainable Development Goals including a Forum on 7 to 8 of July in Niamey, (Niger) on the topic of Youth and Climate Change, occurring during the mid-year Summit of the African Union. ARDN is also providing a focus on empowerment of women during the 2019 FIFA Women's World Cup in France, and in New York on the occasion of its annual event called "AFRICA OPEN FOR BUSINESS", during the UN General Assembly.
